Download websites can be divided into two types: public and private. Private websites are accessible only to people who have the right URL. While public websites are accessible to everyone. The best way to download private websites is by using a VPN. There are various free and paid VPN services that you can use. However, free VPN services offer limited bandwidth and limited server locations. In addition to privacy concerns, there is also a huge potential issue with using a free VPN service. All of the servers are publicly accessible and you are risking connecting to a malicious website or a server that contains a trojan. Paid VPN services give you complete access to private websites and servers and most of them offer unlimited bandwidth and unlimited server locations. You will never have to worry about connecting to a malicious website or a server that contains a trojan. Which is better? Paid VPN service or Free VPN service? The Best VPN Services For You In 2019 VPN services have some hidden costs. It may take time and effort to decide between paid VPN service and a free VPN service. You may face higher VPN connection speed when you use paid VPN service. Free VPN service may be more stable in comparison with paid VPN service. Top VPN services Free VPN service Paid VPN service Price (USD) Free (limited features) $6.95/month (unlimited features) $9.95/month (unlimited features) Advantages High-speed VPN connection Unlimited bandwidth Unlimited server locations Disadvantages Limited bandwidth Privacy concerns Unstable connection VPN connections can be divided into two types: IP and DNS. IP VPN service uses your home IP address to connect to VPN servers. It is more secure than DNS VPN because there is no DNS leak. IP VPN requires a lot of bandwidth. This is a big problem for mobile users who use limited data plans.
